Please be advised that the Andover Planning & Zoning Commission is hosting a workshop from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Saturday May 14, 2022 via Zoom to discuss the town's Affordable Housing Plan. The plan is being prepared as a tool to assist with the town's future growth as well as to comply with the statutory requirements adopted by the Connecticut General Assembly. The workshop will entail a brief presentation of information on the town's housing needs collected to date and provide an opportunity for the public to ask questions and provide input. The meeting can be accessed with the following call-in information.

While this workshop is not technically a meeting of the Planning and Zoning Commission, there is a possibility that a quorum of one or more town boards/commissions may be in attendance and, as such, is being warned as a meeting so as to comply with the Connecticut Freedom of Information Act.

Please direct any questions to Jim Hallisey at zoning@andoverct.org or 860.742.4035.

Should any member of the public need special accommodations to participate in this workshop please contact Jim Hallisey at the email address/phone number above.
