

Hello!

I'm unable to attend the hearing but wanted to briefly weigh in.

As a resident just a road over on Bunker Hill, I think the notion of adding a commercial building to an area where we've already got a traffic light could be a wonderful thing.

Our community sleuths have already done some online digging and surmised that what they are applying for is most likely a Dollar General.

Our quaint town is largely a pass through for many, and what folks pass through are some lovely independent businesses and a beautiful, ever growing monument to our soldiers. Having a Dollar General doesn't add value or beauty to the aesthetic others have worked so hard to cultivate. We are small, but I think our absence of big box stores and our proximity to surrounding towns that have them adds to our charm and overall value. I think it's a key reason that people want to live in and be a part of our wonderful community.

I would be in favor of something like a restaurant or brewery that encourages gathering, but I am adamantly opposed to a Dollar General.

Thank you for taking my email, good luck at the meeting.
